

A large rounded rectangular grid with a red circle on the left side. The grid is composed of two rows and five columns of empty cells. The red circle is positioned to the left of the grid, overlapping the first column of the first row.

